Standards that were met with areas for improvement

Standard 1.6

- The pharmacy generally keeps records it is required to, but some records, such as emergency supply records and controlled drugs records are not fully complete. This may make it harder for the pharmacy to manage any queries it may receive about these.

Standard 4.3

- The pharmacy routinely reviews monitoring information for some higher-risk medicines, but they do not consistently record this information on the patients record. This makes it harder for the pharmacy to show that it has checked these medicines are still suitable and that people have been counselled appropriately.
