Pharmacy context and inspection background

This is a large pharmacy, opposite a shopping centre on the main road which runs through Fratton, a residential area near Portsmouth city centre. It dispenses people's prescriptions, sells over-the-counter medicines and offers healthcare advice. It provides services to people who use drugs. The pharmacy also supplies some medicines in multi-compartment compliance packs for people who might otherwise struggle to manage their medicines.

This was a full routine inspection of the pharmacy. The pharmacy was last inspected in December 2016.

Standards not met

Standard 1.6

- The pharmacy does not maintain adequate records to show how it provides its services safely. Its private prescription records do not comply with the law, as the majority of those seen do not show who the prescriber was. This makes it much harder to follow up any queries that may arise. Additionally, the pharmacy is not retaining appropriate records when it supplies unlicensed medicines. Other records such as the responsible pharmacist record, emergency supply records, and some page headers in the controlled drugs register, were also incomplete.

Standards that were met with areas for improvement

Standard 1.2

- The pharmacy could do more to monitor and review the safety of its services. Although its team members discuss their mistakes and what changes may need to be made, they don't always keep a record of them. This makes it harder for them to show what they have learned and how they prevent the same things happening again.

Standard 1.7

- The pharmacy could do more to protect the confidentiality of people's personal details. Prescriptions awaiting collection are visible to those waiting at the counter so people may be able to read some of the labels.
