The pharmacy provides other NHS services including influenza vaccinations, the New Medicine Service (NMS) and hypertension case finding service. It also has a home delivery service.

Standards that were met with areas for improvement

Standard 1.2

- Pharmacy team members record their mistakes, which they and the pharmacist review together. However, the records do not always include the reason for the mistake which may limit additional opportunities to identify patterns and improve safety.

Standard 4.2

- The pharmacy has the correct written procedures for supplying medicines containing valproate. These say that team members should check that the patient had their yearly review. But it's not clear whether the pharmacy always follows these steps.
- The pharmacy does not always include descriptions of each medicine contained inside each compliance pack. This could make it hard for people to identify their medicines and might lead to confusion or mistakes when taking them.

Standard 4.3

- The pharmacy team monitors medicine stock expiry dates. However, it does not always promptly quarantine expired medicines from stock. This might lead to people receiving a medicine that has passed its expiry date.
