Pharmacy context and inspection background

This community pharmacy is located on a main road in Enfield. It dispenses NHS and private prescriptions. And it supplies medicines to some people in multi-compartment compliance packs to help them take their medicines safely. The pharmacy sells medicines over the counter. It provides some NHS services such as Pharmacy First. And it provides a prescription delivery service to those people who cannot get to the pharmacy.

This was an intelligence-led inspection of the pharmacy following information received by the GPhC. Not all the Standards were inspected on this occasion. The pharmacy was last inspected in April 2021 and all standards were met.

Overall outcome: Standards met

Standards that were met with areas for improvement

Standard 1.1

- The pharmacy has a set of standard operating procedures to help team members work safely. But it is not always clear which ones are in use and whether all team members have read the current versions. This increases the risk that team members are not working in the most safe and effective way.

Standard 1.2

- The pharmacy tries to make improvements when dispensing mistakes happen. However, team members do not always record near misses. This makes it harder for the pharmacy to identify trends and make further improvements.

Standard 1.6

- The pharmacy keeps the records it needs to as required by law. However, the extended time interval between balance checks of its controlled drugs means that it may be harder to spot and investigate any mistakes.

Standard 4.2

- Team members do not always sign the dispensed and checked by boxes on dispensing labels to show who has completed these tasks. This means it may be harder to know which team members have been involved in the dispensing process in the event of a future query.
