Areas of good practice

Standard 2.2

- Team members show a willingness to assist people and each other. And they communicate well with them. This means that the pharmacy has a supportive and positive environment. And it can provide person-centred services in a more efficient, safe and effective way.

Standards that were met with areas for improvement

Standard 4.3

- The pharmacy generally stores and supplies its medicines safely and effectively. But some medicines which require specific storing conditions could be monitored more effectively. So, while the risk is low, these medicines may not be as effective as they should be. Also, a small number of medicines need to have their labels securely attached. Without this there is a risk of people not having all the information they need to take their medicines properly.
