Pharmacy context and inspection background

This is an independent retail pharmacy located in central London close to Baker Street station. People who visit the pharmacy usually live or work locally, and some of its customers are tourists. The pharmacy dispenses private and NHS prescriptions, and it sells some over-the-counter medicines and other merchandise. The pharmacy also provides the NHS Pharmacy First service, and it has a private travel clinic.

This was an intelligence-led inspection of the pharmacy following information received by the GPhC and not all the Standards were inspected on this occasion. The pharmacy was inspected in January 2024 when it failed several standards and was made subject to an improvement notice. It was subsequently reinspected in August 2024 when all standards were met.
