Standards not met

Standard 1.1

- The pharmacy does not have current standard operating procedures in place to cover all the services it provides, which means the pharmacy team may not be following the most up to date processes. And team members have not signed a declaration of competence to confirm that they have read and understood these.

Standard 1.2

- The pharmacy team does not keep complete records of errors that had been identified after people received their medicines, and it does not regularly review mistakes identified during the dispensing process. So team members may miss opportunities to identify patterns, learn from their mistakes and improve their services.

Standards that were met with areas for improvement

Standard 1.6

- The pharmacy's team members keep the records they need to. But they do not check running balances of all its higher-risk medicines regularly. This could mean that mistakes might not always be identified and corrected in a timely manner.

Standard 1.8

- Team members have awareness about how to safeguard vulnerable people, but there was not a documented process for team members to refer to. This may make it harder for them to recognise and report any safeguarding issues.

Standard 4.3

- Overall the pharmacy manages its medicines appropriately, but the pharmacy team does not consistently monitor and record the temperature range of the medicines storage fridge. So the pharmacy cannot demonstrate that medicines have always been kept at the correct temperature and continue to be fit for use.
