Standards not met

Standard 1.2

- The pharmacy does not keep any records of instances when things go wrong within the dispensing process. Team members do not record mistakes and there is no evidence there is any learning from mistakes to help improve patient safety.

Standard 1.7

- The pharmacy does not appropriately separate confidential waste. And so, there is a risk people's sensitive information could be compromised.

Standard 3.1

- The pharmacy's dispensary is excessively untidy, particularly where medicines are stored. This creates an increased risk of mistakes being made which may compromise patient safety.

Standard 4.3

- The pharmacy stores some medicines without records of the expiry dates or batch numbers. And so, there is a risk that medicines that are not fit for purpose are supplied to people, and medicines that are subject to a recall cannot be identified. Additionally, the pharmacy stores a significant quantity of medicines awaiting destruction in a way that does not prevent unauthorised access.
