This community pharmacy is in a parade of shops in the Nottinghamshire village of Edwalton. Its main services include dispensing NHS and private prescriptions and selling over-the-counter medicines. And it provides a range of NHS consultation services including Pharmacy First, blood pressure checks, contraception services, the New Medicine Service (NMS) and seasonal vaccinations. The pharmacy supplies medicines in multi-compartment compliance packs to some people to help them remember to take their medicines. And it delivers medicines to people's homes.

Standards not met

Standard 1.1

- The pharmacy does not identify and manage all the risks for the pharmacy services it provides. It does not keep its written procedures up to date. And training records do not show that all team members have read and understood these procedures.

Standard 1.2

- The pharmacy does not monitor the risk of providing all of its services appropriately. Its team members do not make records of the mistakes they make during the dispensing process. And there is no evidence of reflection or learning following these near misses and dispensing incidents to help reduce risk. This means there is an increased chance of repeated mistakes occurring.

Standard 4.3

- The pharmacy does not have appropriate equipment available to support it in safely disposing of its sharps waste and patient-returned higher risk medicines. And it does not store patient-returned higher risk medicines securely as required. This increases the risk of an adverse incident occurring.
- The pharmacy does not demonstrate how it monitors the suitability of the environment for storing some medicines requiring cold storage as monitoring records for one of its fridges is not available. Stock medicines are not always held in the manufacturer's original packaging. And monitoring records for the checks made to ensure medicines remain safe to supply to people are not always completed, this increases the risk of mistake occurring.
