Pharmacy context and inspection background

This is a busy community pharmacy within a GP surgery in the centre of Grantham, Lincolnshire. Its main services include dispensing NHS prescriptions. The pharmacy sells a small range of over-the-counter medicines. It provides a range of NHS and private consultation services including NHS Pharmacy First, NHS blood pressure check service, NHS New Medicine Service (NMS), vaccination services, weight loss treatment and vitamin B injections. It supplies medicines in multi-compartment compliance packs to some people to help them remember to take their medicines. And it delivers medicines to people's homes.

This was a full intelligence-led inspection of the pharmacy following information received by the GPhC. The pharmacy was last inspected in April 2016 and all standards were met.

Standards not met

Standard 1.2

- The pharmacy does not monitor the risk of providing all of its services appropriately as it does not always record the mistakes it makes when dispensing medicines. This hinders learning and means there is an increased risk of repeated mistakes occurring.

Standard 4.3

- The pharmacy does not manage all of its medicines appropriately. Some multi-compartment compliance packs containing higher-risk medicines are not stored securely. And some medicines are not stored safely within the manufacturers original packing. The pharmacy has a record to help its team complete regular checks of its stock medicines. But this record does not include all areas where medicines are held and has contributed to date-expired stock going unidentified. This increases the risk of the pharmacy supplying an out-of-date medicine.

Standards that were met with areas for improvement

Standard 1.1

- The pharmacy has written procedures for team members to follow to help provide safe services. But it doesn't undertake timely reviews of these procedures to ensure they are kept up to date. And team members do not always make a record of when they have read the procedures, so it is difficult for the pharmacy to show their learning is up to date.

Standard 3.1

- The pharmacy's website provides information about the third-party prescribing service it works with when providing its weight loss service. But there is no such information available to people accessing the vitamin B12 service to support people in making an informed choice about their care provider.
