Pharmacy context and inspection background

This community pharmacy is situated on a parade of shops along main road in a residential area. Its main activity is dispensing NHS prescriptions for people living locally. It also provides a large number of people with their medicines in multi-compartment compliance packs. The pharmacy provides other NHS services which includes the New Medicine Service (NMS), Pharmacy First, COVID-19 and influenza vaccinations, and blood pressure monitoring. It also offers private services including consultations for weight loss treatment, travel vaccinations and ear wax removal, and it has a home delivery service.

This was a full reinspection following an inspection in December 2024 where the pharmacy did not meet Standards 1.1, 1.5 and 4.2. Since the last inspection, the pharmacy has ceased supplying medicines online including via patient group directions (PGDs). So it is now meeting these Standards.

Standards that were met with areas for improvement

Standard 1.2

- The pharmacy records dispensing errors and the pharmacist reviews them with the staff involved. However, other team members are not always informed, and the records lack detail which limits further opportunities to identify patterns and improve safety.

Standard 1.6

- The pharmacy keeps a digital record of who the responsible pharmacist (RP) is. But this record can be changed without leaving any sign that it was edited. Also, the RP didn't always record when they stopped being in charge. This means it could be difficult for the pharmacy to know who was responsible at a certain time.
- The pharmacy's weight loss PGD records include Body Mass Index (BMI), blood pressure, and dose changes, but they lack other details such as the target weight and whether the person's usual doctor has been informed. This may make it harder for the pharmacy to support the person's ongoing care and show how it supplies medicines safely.

Standard 2.2

- The pharmacy enrolls team members on suitable training courses, but it does not consistently support them in completing their training.

Standard 4.2

- The pharmacy has the correct written procedures for supplying medicines containing valproate. These say the medicine should be supplied in its original packaging and that team members should also check that the patient has the right written information and had their yearly review. But it's not clear whether the pharmacy always follows these steps.
- The pharmacy team refers to the prescription before it supplies compliance packs to check they have been correctly assembled. However, the team prepares the packs before it receives the prescription using the previous month's information. This could increase the risks of mistakes happening if there are any changes to the person's medicines and these are overlooked. And the dispenser or checker does not always initial dispensing labels on compliance packs, which could limit their opportunities to learn and improve when mistakes happen.
