Pharmacy context and inspection background

This is a distance-selling pharmacy operating from a commercial premises located in a retail park, mainly serving the local population. It prepares NHS prescription medicines, and it orders people's repeat prescriptions on their behalf. Most people receive their medicines in multi-compartment compliance packs to help make sure they take them safely and there is a home delivery service. The pharmacy also supplies medicines to residents of a nursing home.

This was a reinspection following an inspection in December 2024 where the pharmacy did not meet Standards 1.6, 2.2, 4.2 and 4.3. This reinspection focused on those Standards which had previously not been met. Since the last inspection, the pharmacy has made improvements to its working processes and it is now meeting the previously failed Standards. Its records are now generally legible and new team members receive better training. The pharmacy has also reviewed its compliance pack service to make sure people receive information leaflets for each of their medicines, and it has reintroduced regular monitoring of medicine refrigerator storage temperatures.

Standards that were met with areas for improvement

Standard 1.2

- The dispensers do not always initial dispensing labels for prescription medicines, including compliance packs. This could make it difficult to clarify who prepared each prescription medication and limit their opportunities to learn and improve.
- The pharmacy team records the mistakes it identifies when dispensing medicines. The pharmacist periodically reviews these records, and they discuss them with the team. But the reason for each mistakes is not always clear. So, the pharmacy might miss additional opportunities to learn and mitigate risks in the dispensing process.

Standard 4.2

- The pharmacy team does not always include descriptions of each medicine contained inside each compliance pack, which may make it more difficult for people to identify individual medicines.
