Standards not met

Standard 1.1

- The pharmacy does not fully manage the risks associated with its supplies of higher-risk medicines. It sometimes supplies weight-management medicines to people under a patient group direction (PGD) after an initial virtual consultation. But the PGD requires the person to undergo an initial assessment face-to-face with the pharmacist. The pharmacy's risk assessment (RA) does not fully reflect the nature of the service including that medicines are supplied against a PGD rather than prescribed to people.

Standard 1.6

- The pharmacy does not keep all the records it needs to for the safe provision of its weight management service. It does not make contemporaneous consultation records to show that it has considered inclusion or exclusion criteria or safety netting advice provided to people taking weight management medicines.

Standard 4.2

- The pharmacy cannot provide assurances that its services are delivered safely and effectively. It is unable to demonstrate that it has reliable systems to capture all the relevant information needed for the healthcare professional to make an informed decision whether its safe to provide such medicines to people.
