Pharmacy context and inspection background

This is a private pharmacy in a business centre in Folkestone town centre. It provides private prescribing face-to-face and at a distance mostly for acute infections and it supplies vitamin B12 injections using a patient group direction. It offers a limited range of over-the counter medicines for sale via its website but has not yet supplied any medicines online. It also delivers medicines to some people's homes.

This was the first inspection of the pharmacy since it opened.

Overall outcome: Standards not all met

Standards not met

Standard 1.1

- The pharmacy does not always appropriately manage the risks associated with its prescribing service. And there is evidence that it has not put in place the mitigations identified in its own risk assessment. For example, the risk mitigation for overprescribing was to have a standardised assessment protocol. But there is no evidence that this has been implemented. And it cannot show how it is mitigating the risks. Some risk assessments do not have implementation or review dates, so they may be less likely to reflect current best practice.

Standard 1.6

- The pharmacy's private prescribing service consultation records are incomplete. So, this makes it more difficult to understand the reason for the prescription and the clinical evidence available to the prescriber at the time.

Standard 4.2

- The pharmacy does not have sufficient systems in place to ensure that its private prescribing service is safe and effective. It prescribes antibiotics at a distance. But it doesn't independently verify information provided during telephone consultations before prescribing antibiotics. And it doesn't always refer people to other healthcare providers when the exclusion criteria in its own prescribing formulary are met. Additionally, the pharmacy cannot demonstrate that it obtains consent for and routinely shares information about medicines it has prescribed with people's regular prescriber.
