Pharmacy context and inspection background

The pharmacy is in a parade of businesses in a residential area in Rickmansworth. It dispenses NHS and private prescriptions, sells over-the-counter medicines and offers healthcare advice. It supplies medicines in multi-compartment compliance packs for people who have difficulty managing their medicines. The pharmacy delivers medicines to people's homes and provides NHS Pharmacy First and new medicines services. It has a website www.theonlychemist.com to sell medicines and other items.

This was the first routine inspection of the pharmacy since it relocated from nearby premises July 2025.

Standards not met

Standard 1.6

- The pharmacy does not keep an accurate record, as it should, of when the responsible pharmacist is, and is not, on the premises. This means people won't know who was responsible for the safe and effective running of the registered pharmacy when it is operational.

Standards that were met with areas for improvement

Standard 1.1

- Although the pharmacy has written instructions telling its team members how they should carry out their tasks, it has not tailored them to this specific pharmacy. This makes it harder for them to know what activities they should and should not carry out, which increases the risks involved when providing services in the pharmacy.

Standard 1.2

- Although the pharmacy keeps records of the dispensing mistakes its team members make, they do not contain enough information for the pharmacy to show how it learns from things that go wrong. So it may not spot patterns or trends which could help prevent the same mistakes happening again.

Standard 2.2

- The pharmacy does not support the team member who helps with dispensing by providing ongoing training to help maintain their skills. This makes it harder for them to keep up to date.

Standard 4.2

- Although the pharmacy uses an online questionnaire to obtain information from people accessing its services, it does not tailor it to individual medicines or conditions. So people may not get the most appropriate treatment. The pharmacy team should make sure it follows a sales protocol to safeguard people purchasing medicines which may be liable to misuse.
