Pharmacy context and inspection background

This community pharmacy is set on a busy road in Battersea. The pharmacy is open five days a week. It dispenses people's prescriptions, sells over-the-counter medicines and offers health advice. And it also provides a range of other NHS services.

This was the first routine inspection of the pharmacy since it was registered in September 2025.

Standards that were met with areas for improvement

Standard 1.2

- The pharmacy team members discuss dispensing mistakes when these are identified. But they don't always record them. So, it may be harder for them to review them to spot any patterns and take action to help stop the same sort of things happening again.

Standard 1.6

- The pharmacy generally maintains appropriate records as required by law. However, some records, such as the emergency supply records, private prescription register and responsible pharmacist log, contain inaccurate or missing information. This could make it harder for the pharmacy to demonstrate the reliability of its records when responding to a query.

Standard 4.2

- The pharmacy team doesn't always provide patient information leaflets for the medicines it supplies in multi-compartment compliance packs. This means that people don't always have all the information they need to take their medicines safely.

Standard 4.3

- The pharmacy largely stores its medicines appropriately and securely. But it sometimes removes medication from its manufacturer's original packaging and puts it into packaging belonging to another manufacturer. This could be problematic in the event of a drug safety alert or recall.

Standard 4.4

- The pharmacy receives drug safety alerts and recalls. But it doesn't keep records to show that these have been processed. This makes it harder for the pharmacy to demonstrate it has taken appropriate action in response to them.
